

Women In Development of Mercer County

is an organization that empowers and advances women as professional fundraisers. We do this through an array of specialized training that allows fundraisers at all levels of the profession to improve their professional skills and expand their career opportunities.

By joining Women In Development of Mercer County you will have a variety of opportunities to network, to share information, and to develop as professionals. During the year, we offer a series of programs that addresses a broad range of topics for both experienced fundraisers and newcomers to the field. Past topics have included endowments, capital campaigns, planned giving, and effective marketing strategies. Our skill-building workshops and special seminars often feature distinguished speakers.

Consider becoming a WID member and join a dynamic group of women from a wide range of institutions who are excited to learn together, connect with one another, and share knowledge.
